Greetings!

During such an unprecedented situation, where each one of us is inundated with everything happening around us the Leadership Training Society (LTS) of Loreto College is hosting “A PLATTER OF JOY”, which is an initiative to bring out the culinary artist in each one of you and also remind you that “it may be stormy now but it can’t rain forever”.

This competition aims to allow everyone to actively participate. As all of us are already under such stringent rules and regulations, hence, we have decided not to restrict this competition with any rules or even a theme. It’s time for you all to put on your hat of creativity and start off.

Basic guidelines to participate in this competition:

1. Prepare any dish of your choice and you will be mainly marked on the presentation.
2. The most essential part of this competition is to offer the food you prepared to your parents, siblings or any person who is in need of food (if possible).
3. Take a snap of both your dish and the person whom you are going to give the dish to show their response.
4. Mail your entries to ltssociety20@gmail.com along with your name and department.

The last date to send in your entries is Monday, 18.05.2020. We are eagerly anticipating your participation.

This is indeed a tough time and we are all in this together.

Stay home, stay safe!
